German Envoy Selects Personal Emissary to Berlin.

PROMINENT TEUTON CHOSEN

Will Lay Before Emperor William and High Government Officials Demands of President Wilson, True State of American Public Opinion and Point of View on Submarine Warfare.

Washington, June 4.—To supplement and reinforce his official report to the German government on the position of the United States in the present crisis the German ambassador at Washington is sending a personal emissary to Berlin to lay before Emperor William and high government officials the demands of President Wilson, the true state of public opinion in the United States and the American point of view on submarine warfare.

This representative of Count von Bernstorff is to start for Germany at once so that he may reach there on the heels of the note, which President Wilson is preparing to send to the German government this week. It is hoped that what he will tell the Berlin authorities, on behalf of the German ambassador, and on his own account, will lead them to realize the necessity of meeting the United States directly on the issues involved in the German submarine operations.

The German ambassador has selected for this important mission, one almost unprecedented in character, a German of considerable prominence in the business life of the United States. He will thus be able to present not only the views of Count von Bernstorff in a direct, personal manner but also his own estimate of the situation based on his understanding of the American people and conditions existing in this country.

It is also expected that this man will be able to communicate to the majority of the influential men in Berlin an understanding of the situation, whereas the ambassador's reports would in all probability reach only a few officials.

Will Not Delay Note.

This action on the part of the German ambassador, while regarded in official circles as a most commendable effort to better the understanding in Berlin, will not delay the action of this government in replying to the German note.

President Wilson's note, brief and pointed, will ask a definite question—whether the imperial government intends to be governed in the future by the human principles embraced in international law for the conduct of maritime warfare.

Only as Germany realizes the intensity of the determination of the American government to stand firm for the principles it upholds will officials here look for a more satisfactory response to the demands of President Wilson than that received last Monday.

It was apparent that the situation, viewed in this light, took on a slightly less discouraging aspect than before the visit of the German ambassador to the White House. The German embassy was radiantly optimistic and, while the marked cheerfulness in this quarter was not exactly reflected in administration circles, it was admitted that certain helpful influences have been set at work.

It has been suggested as one of the possibilities of the situation that the German government might suddenly about-face on the Lusitania, admit that its allegations are unfounded in fact, and admit she was wrong. While this expectation might find some support in the attitude of the embassy, nothing has yet come from Berlin giving any reason to believe that such a course is likely to be adopted.

CREATED FALSE MANIFESTS

Fourth German Pleads Guilty to Violating Laws.

New York, June 4.—Harry R. Salomon, a member of the importing and exporting firm of Salomon Bros. & Co. and a lieutenant in the German army, followed the example of three others indicted with him for conspiring to defraud the United States through the filing of false manifests on contraband shipments of rubber intended for Germany and pleaded guilty. He was fined $500.

"Neutrality," said Judge Hunt in imposing the sentence, "carries with it not only the duty of being supinely passive but means that a country must be vigilantly active in preventing violations of its laws by those who aim to help the belligerents."

TWO TRAWLERS TORPEDOED

Several Men on Board One Killed by Shell Fire.

London, June 4.—Two Welsh trawlers have been sunk by German submarines—the Hiorid of Cardiff and the Victoria of Milford. The Hiorid was sent to the bottom about 150 miles southwest of Lundy Island and the Victoria 135 miles from St. Ann's head.

Several men on board the Victoria were killed by shells from the submarine. The remainder of the ship's company and the crew of the Hiorid have landed at Milford.

SAYS GERMANS ARE BETTER EQUIPPED

David Lloyd-George Appeals for More Munitions.

Manchester, June 4.—Declaring that the German victory in Galicia was due to an overwhelming superiority in equipment and that if the allies in the West had been as well equipped the Germans would long ago have been driven from France and Belgium, David Lloyd-George, the new minister of munitions, made a stirring appeal to employers and workmen to supply the British armies with the necessary munitions.

The speech was made before employers in the engineering trades and trade unionists. "I come," he said, "as an emissary of state to carry the most urgent message ever told to the ears of a Manchester audience. Our country is fighting for its life and upon what it does, upon what it is prepared to sacrifice depends the issue."

"It depends more upon the masters and men occupied in running workshops than upon any part of the community whether Great Britain will emerge from this colossal struggle beaten, humiliated, or triumphant, free and more powerful than ever."

PRESIDENT GREETES GEORGE

Wilson Cables Congratulations to King of England.

Washington, June 4.—Birthdays greetings to King George V. of England were cabled by President Wilson in this message:

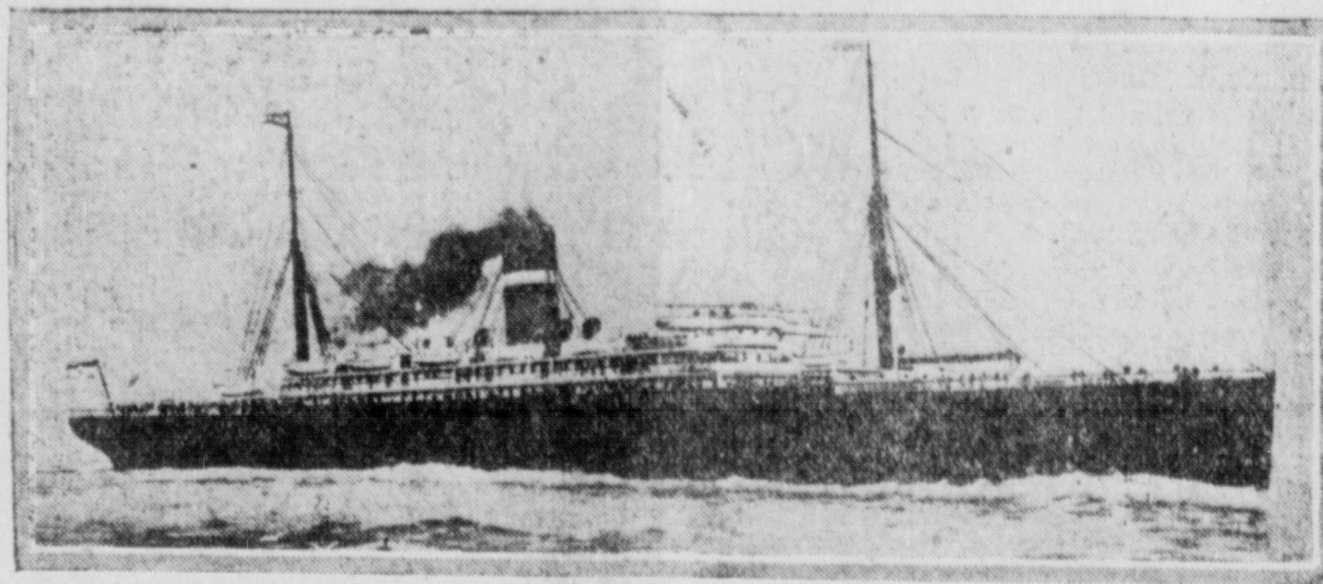

"I take pleasure in extending to your majesty greetings of friendship and good will on this, your birthday anniversary."

King George is fifty years old.

CUNARD LINE AGENT CALLS AFFIDAVIT FALSE.

New York, June 4.—Charles P. Sumner, general agent of the Cunard line, said that he could add nothing to what he already had given out regarding the alleged armament of the Lusitania. He declared that he had had a special survey made before the ship left this port, which proved the falsity of the statements in the Stable affidavit; also Mr. Sumner said he had received positive assurances from the Cunard offices in Liverpool that no arms or armament were on board the Lusitania.

Holland Liner in Collision of Nantucket

The Ryndam

The Holland-America liner, Ryndam, carrying 18 passengers and a crew of 200 was in collision with the Norwegian freighter, J. J. Cuneo, off Nantucket light, Wednesday, May 26. After wireless calls several vessels answered, among them battleships of the Atlantic fleet which have been conducting a war game for several days. For a time it seemed the liner would sink, and her passengers and most of the crew were transferred to the Cuneo. Later the battleship South Carolina took them aboard and the Ryndam, under her own steam, started back to New York. The Ryndam has a gross tonnage of 12,527 tons, is 662 feet long over all and has a 62-foot beam and a draught of 27 feet. She was built at Belfast in 1904.

The Cuneo flies the Norwegian flag and is commanded by Capt. C. Aamodt. She has a gross tonnage of 874, is 201 feet long and has a 30-foot beam.

LATEST WAR NEWS

IMPORTANCE OF SITUATION

(By United Press)

Washington, June 4.—Counsellor Lansing, of the state department, attended the cabinet meeting for the first time in years, and his attendance attests to the importance of the situation.

Counsellor Lansing was called in to make the rejoinder to Germany absolutely flawless in order that it might be impossible to make any slip that would form an excuse for further delay. He brought with him a brief he had prepared dealing with Germany's excuses and these set aside as irrelevant the Lusitania contentions. It is generally expected that the complete note will set forth all points raised by Germany will be disregarded until the United States is assured the rights of the neutrals which have been disregarded are recognized and guaranteed this country under international law. It is understood that the cabinet discussion went to the root of everything pertaining to the recent German note.

GERHARD SAILS FOR GERMANY

(By United Press)

Washington, June 4.—The German Embassy this afternoon admitted that Mayor Gerhard had sailed for Germany to act as Count Von Bernstorff's personal emissary at Berlin when the next reply of Germany is sent to the United States relative to the German-American situation, leaving last Thursday via Copenhagen. Mayor Gerhard, Doctor Dernburg and Count Siersdorff were with Count Von Bernstorff when he arrived here last August.

GERMANS STORMED VILLAGE

(By United Press)

Berlin, June 4.—The war department says officially that the Germans stormed and captured the village and chateau of Hoege, in the vicinity of Ypres, after several days battle with the British, and have entire control of the sugar mills of Souchez.

DERNBURG SAILS JUNE 12

(By United Press)

Washington, June 4.—It was definitely learned this afternoon that Dr. Dernburg will sail for home via Norway on June 12.

ATLANTIC FLEET SCATTERED

(By United Press)

Washington, June 4.—Admiral Benson, in charge of the naval operations, announces that the ships of the Atlantic fleet are scattered among the various Atlantic ports, and that on July 4th target practice will follow at Narragansett Bay. Although not officially announced that the Panama trip has been abandoned, this seems to knock the last prop from under the proposition.

TROOP MOVEMENT SIGNIFICANT

(By United Press)

Laredo, Texas, June 4.—The troop movement seems significant in view of the change in the American Mexican policy. Gen. Carranza's garrison strength at Neve Laredo was this afternoon brought up to 1,500 men. Gen. Alesandro, with 800 men, were added to the soldiers already there. Alesandro having been named to succeed Gen. Ricarte in command there.

MEXICAN NOTE DELIVERED

(By United Press)

Washington, June 4.—President Wilson's Mexican note has been delivered to Carranza and Garcia, according to a statement by Consul Stillman to the state department, but he was unable to learn whether it had also reached Villa.

SWOBODA NOT GUILTY

(By United Press)

Paris, June 4.—The Petit Journal prints the news that Raymond Swoboda, claiming San Francisco as his home, was absolved from the charges of being a German spy and also from all blame in regard to the fire on board the steamer La Touraine.

London, June 4.—The recent attack of the Zeppelins on London resulted in six deaths, according to an official statement.

DR. DERNBURG.

Allies Will Provide Him Safe Conduct to Germany.

SAFE TRIP FOR DERNBURG

Former German Secretary Requested Pledge of Allies.

London, June 4.—Announcement made at Washington that the British, French and Russian governments had assured the state department it will give safe conduct to Dr. Dernburg, former colonial secretary of Germany, when he leaves the United States, was confirmed here, with the additional statement that this arrangement has been made at Dr. Dernburg's wish.

The intermediary through whom the request was made, has not been disclosed.

PETROGRAD ADMITS LOSS OF FORTRESS

Official Announcement of Defeat at Przemyśl.

Petrograd, June 4.—The loss by the Russians of Przemyśl is admitted in an official communication.

Vienna, June 4.—The following official communication was issued:

"In the Russian war theater the German troops stormed the last positions on the north front of Przemyśl and entered the town from the north. Our Tenth corps entered the town from the west and south."

"The importance of this success cannot yet be estimated."

"The attack of the allied troops in the sector north of Stry is progressing successfully."

"Italian war theater: The Italians have prosecuted an unsuccessful bombardment of our fortifications at several points on the Tyrolian and Carinthian frontiers."

ESCAPE WITH SMALL FINES

Seven St. Paul Men Arrested Following Boxer's Death.

St. Paul, June 4.—Final echoes of the death of John Simmers, the St. Paul boxer, who died on the night of May 24 after participating in a prize fight with Joe Neu at Dietsch's hall, were heard in municipal court when the nine persons arrested in connection with the affair were arraigned. On the recommendation of the prosecutor the charges against R. H. Cusick and F. C. Schaaf were dismissed for the reason that they were merely spectators. Fines of $25 each were imposed against the other seven on the charge of having aided and conducted a prize fight.

PLANS MORAL UPLIFT AND SALE OF LIQUOR.

Pierre, S. D., June 4.—The sale of liquor as the motive for moral and financial uplift of a community is set forth in the articles of incorporation of the Sturgis Municipal company, incorporated, with a capital of $5,000. The corporation articles set forth that the purposes of the company are: "To improve the moral and financial conditions of the city of Sturgis, and the citizens thereof," followed further with powers to deal with retail in spirituous, vinous and malt liquors and tobacco, as the other purpose of the corporation.

The incorporators are M. M. Brown, Fred C. Hampton and Jesse Brown.

CARRANZA MAY REFUSE OFFERS

Mexican General Is Bent on Pushing Campaign.

ANXIOUS TO TAKE CAPITAL

Agent of Carranza at Washington Issues Statement Outlining Views of His Chief—American Government May Yet Be Forced to Use Stern Measures.

Washington, June 4.—That Venustiano Carranza is bent on pushing his military campaign without regard to the injunction of President Wilson, that the United States will undertake to restore order south of the Rio Grande if the warring chieftains fail to establish a provisional government, is indicated in a statement made public by Aliso Arredondo, the Carranza agent in this city.

Apparently Carranza is defiant and is in no mood to compromise with any one. The announcement made by Mr. Arredondo states that Carranza is determined to continue his campaign against Mexico City and the inference is plain that the first chief believes that he should be accorded the boon of recognition by the United States.

While officials are not disposed to prejudice Carranza's attitude until he has had opportunity to reply to President Wilson's pronouncement they are inclined to the opinion that Carranza will not fall in line with plans proposed for the reconciliation of the factions. This means, in all probability, that the United States will be forced, within a short time, to resort to stern measures "to help Mexico save herself and serve her people."

Villa Likely to Accept.

While Carranza sits astride high horse breathing defiance to the United States, Villa is playing a craftier game. It has been stated in his behalf that he will accept in principle the proposal of President Wilson, that the contending factions settle their difference otherwise than by armed force. A formal reply to this effect is expected from Villa.

Carranza's reply is understood to be foreshadowed in the statement made public by his Washington agent. He proclaims that Carranza controls seven-eighths of Mexico's territory and all seaports on both coasts, that he has an army of from 80,000 to 100,000 men, that within a week he will take Mexico City and call elections for officers of a constitutional government.

While the government awaited the effect of President Wilson's warning to contending military factions of Mexico the American Red Cross, aided by the state and war departments, carried forward comprehensive plans for relieving hungry noncombatants in the famine-threatened republic.

Orders were telegraphed to consular officers along the border to cooperate in assembling and moving food supplies and similar instructions will be given the frontier military posts.

ITALIANS ARE ADVANCING

Claim Austrians Have Failed to Check Them.

Udine, Italy, June 4.—Austrian troops made repeated efforts to dislodge the Italian forces, which have succeeded in establishing themselves on Monte Nero ridge, across the Isonzo river, along the front north of the Gulf of Trieste. According to advices reaching Udine the Italians are still in possession of the ridge.

The advance of the Italians across the Isonzo has been accomplished in the face of unusual difficulties. In consequence of heavy rains it was impossible to ford the Isonzo, except for detachments of cavalry, whose horses swam across the river. Engineers protected by artillery constructed pontoon bridges for the infantry.

DEVICE AIDS SUBMARINES

Air Purifier Will Be Given Test by American Navy.

Newport, R. I., June 4.—An air purifying device intended to reserve the air supply in the accumulators and thus add to the duration of the possible submergence of submarines will be given official tests at the local naval station within a few days. The submarine D-2 has been equipped with the appliance and will undergo the trials.

Greek Ship Sunk by Mine.

Paris, June 4.—A Havas dispatch from Athens says that Greek steamer, outward bound from Trieste, struck a mine near Salvo and sank. All the crew perished, save three, who were injured seriously.

Pupils of Parochial School will Present a Varied Program at Brainerd Opera House

TUESDAY EVENING, JUNE 9TH

Program interspersed With Chorus Selections—Rev. Father J. J. O'Mahoney to Speak

On Wednesday evening, June 9th, the pupils of St. Francis schools will present a varied program at the Brainerd opera house.

Several entertaining numbers are being prepared, among them a "Butterfly Fantasia" in which twelve girls costumed as gorgeous butterflies will form many pretty figures.

The intermediate boys and girls will be seen in a spectacular hoop drill. The graduates are working out a very interesting little comedy, entitled, "My Aunt's Heiress."

The program is interspersed with several select choruses. Rev. J. J. O'Mahoney will deliver an address at the close of the program.

Doughnuts

That will remain moist.

Every housewife who bakes her own bread knows that if a little potato is added to the sponge, the bread will not dry out so quickly. In this recipe potato is utilized to make doughnuts that will remain moist and fresh for several days.

K C will be found to have distinct advantages over any other Baking Powder for doughnuts. K C is a double acting baking powder with which a large batch of doughnuts may be mixed and fried a few at a time. The last will be as light and nice as the first.

K C Potato Doughnuts

By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, of Baking School fame.

3 cups flour; 2 eggs; 1 cup sugar; 4 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; 1/2 teaspoonful salt; 1/2 teaspoonful mace; 1 cup cold mashed potatoes; 1/2 cup milk, or more if needed.

Sift three times, the flour, salt, spice and baking powder. Beat eggs with rotary beater, then still using rotary beater, gradually add sugar, then work in the mashed potato with a spoon and alternately add milk and flour mixture. Make a soft dough, roll into a sheet, cut into rounds, pinch a hole in the center with the finger and fry in deep fat.

Fat for frying should not be hot enough to brown the doughnut until it has risen. When the doughnut is dropped into the fat it sinks to the bottom. As soon as it comes up it should be turned and turned a number of times while cooking. This recipe is excellent as they do not take the fat in frying and will stay moist for days.

LOWELL SCHOOL WINS

Attains Honor of Having Best Percentage of Pupils in the Marching Line Memorial Day

The Lowell school won the flag offered for the best percentage of pupils in the marching line on Memorial Day. This was all the more creditable for the Lowell school inasmuch as their location was the most remote from the place of starting for the parade.

This month Miss Bryant's room of the Lowell building leads the schools in attendance record with 100 percent, the first room of this building to yet secure perfect attendance.

The newlyweds are well known in Crosby and its vicinity, the Dispatch uniting with their many friends in extending best wishes.

The children's entertainment given at the First Methodist Episcopal church tonight for the building fund of the church promises to be most interesting. The children have been thoroughly drilled by Miss Williams and they will give a splendid evening's entertainment.

"THE EFFICIENT CHURCH"

Theme of Rev. G. Phil Sheridan's Sermon for Children's Day this Sunday

Efforts are being made to make Sunday one of historic interest in the First Congregational church. The occasion will be Children's Day. At the morning service commencing at 10:30 Mr. Sheridan will preach a special sermon, the theme being "The Efficient Church."

This is a sermon Mr. Sheridan has given several times at Bible School conventions and has been asked to repeat.

A cordial invitation is extended to Sunday school workers and those interested in the work to be present.

Special music is being arranged to harmonize with the spirit of the day. The evening service at 8 o'clock will be given over entirely to the Bible school for their Children's Day exercises.

Let's See; We Asked For Service

And We Are Offered Higher Rates

The State Railway Commission refuses at this time to entertain the plea of Detroit telephone subscribers for SERVICE FIRST.

We will have to put up with "They don't answer," "I'll ring 'em again" and "Mistake; beg pardon," at least until the commission has determined whether we should be made to pay more than we are now paying for telephones under intolerable conditions.

According to Lawton T. Hemans, chairman of the commission' this will take months.

So may the Lord have mercy on our souls.

There were citizens at the public meeting of the railway board, held in the council chamber, who wanted to hear from its members as to whether Detroit could expect any relief.

But the commission was not there for that purpose, evidently, for it adjourned before these citizens could be heard.

The attitude of Mr. Hermans was that the matter of service would be a consideration only as the question of metered rates applied to it, which doesn't make matters look at all bright.

As a matter of fact, it makes matters look VERY, VERY DARK.

We are left to take our choice, as we see the thing, between metered rates, or HIGHER rates, and rotten service, with no assurance or no reason to expect that under higher rates the service will be any better than it is now—Editorial from Detroit, Michigan Times, Jan. 30, 1914.

This Company is by no means opposed to commission regulation. But that such regulation is a "Cure-all" for the evils of monopoly telephone service, we emphatically deny.

Sufficient Signatures Obtained for Vote on Statutes.

Bismarck, N. D., June 4.—On the face of returns only two measures passed by the last legislature will be referred to the people for confirmation or rejection at the next general election. House bill 492, which provides for repeal of the mill tax to create a fund for the erection of a terminal elevator, has enough signers to refer it to a popular vote, and house bill 114 also has been presented with more than the required number of signers.

This bill put more restrictions on the sale of liquor in the state by agents and also was aimed at messengers and hack drivers.

There were fourteen measures upon which the referendum was attempted.

Trenton, N. J., June 4.—The United States district court for New Jersey handed down a unanimous decision, refusing the petition of the federal government to dissolve the United States Steel corporation.

As against the government the court refused all the injunctions prayed for by the department of justice.

As against the steel corporation the court held that the committee meetings participated in by 95 per cent of the steel trade of the country, including the steel corporation, subsequent to the famous Gary dinners of eight or nine years ago, were unlawful combinations to control prices; but as these meetings had stopped before the government filed its complaint in October, 1911, the judges held that there was no occasion for an injunction.

ACTION CREATES GREAT SURPRISE

Federal Judge Dismisses Suit Against Steel Trust.

MAY GO TO SUPREME COURT

Attorney General Gregory and His Assistant, G. C. Todd, Hold Langthly Conference, but Decline to Make a Statement as to the Next Move of the Government.

Washington, June 4.—Distinct surprise was evident at the department of justice and in government circles generally when news came that the federal circuit court of appeals at Trenton had dismissed the government's suit for dissolution of the United States Steel corporation.

Attorney General Gregory, after a lengthy conference with G. C. Todd, his assistant, in charge of trust prosecutions, declined to make a statement as to the next move of the government. It is generally believed, however, that an effort will be made to carry the suit, regarded as probably the most important ever brought under the Sherman law, to the supreme court.

At the department of justice and at the White House administration officials were taken aback by the breadth of the court's decision. They had looked for at least a partial support for the government's charges.

It is expected that before the next steps are determined President Wilson will be consulted on aspects of the case apart from the purely legal questions involved.

With the many involved questions presented by the case it was suggested that President Wilson would desire to discuss the matter with his cabinet before any further action is decided upon.

Placing Him.

"So yo' am goin' to be mah son-in-law, am yo'?" inquired old Brother Buckaroo.

"Yassah, dat's what it 'mounts to," said the colored swain. "But dat ain' what Ah'm a-marryin' Louella Maude foh. Yo' am purely incidental to de emergency, sah, purely incidental!"—Ladies' Home Journal.

International Situation in Germany Indicates a Failing Food Supply

J. W. T. Mason writes of the internal situation in Germany, regarding the food supply, telling of the advice of the government to the people to boil meat instead of roasting it, as it is less tempting in that style and less will be eaten, form a vegetable diet as far as possible, showing that while starvation does not exist the government is conserving the food stuffs.

Germany's instructions that table d'hote meals shall not be served hereafter in restaurants, because of the inevitable waste, is one of several recent indications that the internal situation in Germany is disturbing to the authorities. The government's advice to the people to abandon as much meat as possible in favor of a vegetable diet, and the suggestion that meats be boiled instead of roasted, whereby they are less tempting to the palate, are other indications of a failing food supply.

How serious the domestic situation really is in Germany cannot be determined except by government statistics, which Berlin authorities are carefully guarding. While there is no room for believing actual starvation is approaching, it is certain much discomfort is being caused the people of Germany. The discomfort, in fact, is unquestionably far more than that inflicted on England by Germany's submarine warfare. The abolition of table d'hote meals is in itself an indication of this, for full-course lunches and dinners are a national restaurant custom throughout Germany.

The economic situation in Germany is undoubtedly making itself felt among most classes of the population, but the detailed facts are hidden as much in this case as in the case of food supply. Nevertheless, certain circumstances are known. Thus, under normal conditions, Germany's reserve supply of cotton on hand at the outbreak of the war ought by now to be exhausted and the mills ought to be closing down, throwing many thousands out of work. Some of the most important iron mines of Germany are worked by Italians, who arrive annually for seasonal employment and afterward return to their own country. Italy's entrance into the war will rob Germany of this source of labor for her basic industry. Germany depends very largely on importations of fleece for her woolen industry, and the embargo against imports ought by this time to have depleted the supplies on hand.

Estimates have been made that German industries as a whole now are approaching a condition of 50 per cent subnormal. If this assertion is true at the present time, the economic situation must soon reach a stage of great danger for Italy's belligerency will cut off large imports of raw materials into Germany by way of Austria and Switzerland. The German capacity for organization is amazing, but a limit is reached when there exists nothing which can be organized. This is the situation which Germany may be approaching. At every opportunity the German government is now emphasizing its willingness to abandon its submarine policy if England will allow commodities to enter Germany. This circumstance is perhaps the final indication that Germany's domestic situation is creating a problem for the government far more alarming than are the problems of the military campaign.

Telephone Companies Consolidate

ALABAMA

In Bessemer the two telephone companies were consolidated and while the matter was pending the Bessemer Daily Standard of October 19, 1911, said:

Bessemer is opposed to two telephones. With one company prices will be more reasonable and certainly service much better.

The Bessemer Weekly for March 25, 1912, said in relation to this consolidation:

This action will be hailed universally by the people with satisfaction. The service of one telephone line covering the field desired, is all that anyone needs. The amount expended for another is just that much wasted, besides the inconvenience of the confusion that often results in the use of two services. The elimination of the Peoples will be the creation of one monopoly or trust that the people will unanimously approve of.

ARKANSAS

At Jonesboro, after the two companies were merged, the manager of the Independent Company gave out a statement in the Jonesboro Daily Tribune of August 11, 1912, in which, after referring to his experience, he said:

The solution of the telephone system undoubtedly lies in one system reasonably well managed and charging reasonable rates.

CALIFORNIA

Agitation in Alhambra caused the Los Angeles Express to state on April 20, 1912:

The people of Alhambra are determined to secure one system of telephone service now that the late supreme court decision gives the right and power to secure this privilege.

And the Los Angeles Examiner referring to this on June 11, 1912, said:

Citizens protested by petition, demanding the two-phone system be abolished and only a one-phone system allowed.

ILLINOIS

In the Carbondale Press, August 1, 1912, appears a notice from the owner of the Carbondale Telephone Company announcing the sale of his plant, and concludes as follows:

I wish to thank all patrons for the support given me while operating this property, but believe that I am doing a favor, not only to them but to the Carbondale public generally, by selling and eliminating an aggravating duplication of service.

Very truly,

The Quincy Herald of February 15, 1912, says:

What the Herald has insisted on is that the people of Quincy have found what the people of all other cities have found where it has been experienced, that two telephone systems are an intolerable nuisance in addition to being a needless expense.

INDIANA

The Gary Tribune of August 9, 1912, in an article on the "Monopoly of the Telephone," says:

The telephone is one of those natural monopolies which do not admit of competition. To secure the best service one company is all that is needed. The passing of the independent companies in northwest Indiana adds to the public convenience and then extends the usefulness of the telephone. That is the entire desideratum.

The Indianapolis Labor Bulletin of February 2, 1912, in an editorial on "The Telephone Merger," says:

Let's make Indianapolis a better city to live in by doing away with this dual telephone service which never should have been tolerated.

In an address before the Board of Trade of Indianapolis on February 12, 1912, James A. Wadsworth, a member of the Public Service Commission of St. Louis, said:

While competition may and has occasionally for a short time secured cheaper rates, I don't think it can be shown that it offers any permanent regulation of either rates or service in the interests of the people. It is a barbarous method of controlling rates. Compelling, as it does, a duplication of investment and operating expense, and wear and tear of equipment, it must necessarily be the most costly method of furnishing public service. While it lasts it is the fruitful parent of ill feeling and in the long run will be terminated by the surrender of the weaker to the stronger operating interests or to an independent interest created to profit by their difficulties, which will at once proceed to recoup itself at the expense of the public for the depreciation and loss which were the results of the competition.

ALABAMA

The Birmingham News of September 5, 1911, when the proposal was made to consolidate the two companies in Birmingham, quoted the City Commissioners as expressing themselves freely to the effect that the monopoly of the telephone business is the only monopoly that is a good one and the County Medical Society endorsed the application.

The Birmingham News of October 13, 1911, said:

With a single system the price would be cheaper. There would be greater possibilities of communication. There would no longer be confusion as to numbers. The subscriber would be the beneficiary of the telephone monopoly. It seems to The News that every argument is in favor of amalgamation and that there is none against it.

GARDNER TO PITCH TWO GAMES

Ex-Philadelphia League Pitcher, Recently Released by St. Paul Association Team

TO STAR ON SLAB HERE

Brainerd Fans Can Bank on Seeing one of the Fastest Games Ever Staged

Word was received by phone last night that "Happy" Harry Gardner, ex-Philadelphia league pitcher, recently released by St. Paul Association team, would journey to Brainerd next Saturday and Sunday and pitch both games for the Independents of St. Paul against Brainerd. In closing up negotiations with this team Manager Hansing insisted that the best talent in the Twin City be procured for these games, and Manager Hering of the visitors was so notified with the result that big money was offered the old leaguer which he accepted. Early next week Gardner will join a Coast city team which made a bid for his services shortly after his release by St. Paul.

Brainerd fans can expect to see one of the fastest games ever staged of the local grounds next Saturday and Sunday and it is predicted that the "Spaws" will have to extend themselves to land on the big end of the money. The battery for Brainerd has not yet been chosen for either game though a request has been made that Fred Cook decorate the mound for one of the two games. Should the visitors shut out Brainerd the first game, Cook will probably be delegated to pitch Sunday.

The Independents have been playing some of the fastest teams in the state and have always given a good account of themselves. Austin, nosed out a winner through bad breaks while Owatonna and St. Peter were both scheduled to play the St. Paulites but wet grounds resulted in a postponement.

Saturday's game will be called at promptly 3:30 as will Sunday's game and it is hoped the fans will respond to both games in numbers that will warrant the management continuing the schedule which calls for Saturday and Sunday games up to the first of August.

Next Saturday and Sunday Brainerd will play the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen's team of Bemidji and from what can be learned of their ability, another fast series will result. So well has Brainerd been advertised throughout the state that difficulty is being met with in arranging games, the visitors fearing that both games will be lost and likewise the big end of the gate receipts.

St. Paul-New Orleans River Traffic

St. Paul, Minn., June 4.—Steel barges operated by John H. Bernhardt of the Mississippi River Transportation Co., New Orleans, will be in operation between St. Paul and New Orleans on the Mississippi river in August, it was announced by A. J. Krank, vice-president of the association of commerce here today. Civic workers in St. Paul are anxious to promote river traffic between St. Paul and New Orleans.

TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Volunteers Wanted to Accommodate the Senators and Their Ladies on Their Visit to Brainerd

Brainerd is to entertain a distinguished party of visitors on June 19th, that being the occasion of the visit of the senatorial party and their ladies of probably 100. The committee having charge of the arrangements desire those who will be on hand with their automobiles to help take the party around the city and surrounding country on that date to notify Senator George H. Gardner, or Secretary Hansing of the Chamber of Commerce. An immediate response is requested.

A UNIQUE DISTINCTION

Red Lake Falls May Become Liquor Hub of all Northwestern Minnesota and Dakota

As a result of county option elections it now seems that Red Lake Falls will soon become the liquor "hub" of all Northwestern Minnesota and North Dakota, says the Bemidji Pioneer.

Every other county in the Red River valley is going as fast as elections are being held, but no petition have been started in Red Lake county. A good part of its rural population is Canadian-French, and the sentiment of the county is against saloon closing. So Red Lake Falls bids fair to keep saloons for some time to come.

The Bemidji brewery was closed by operation of the Indian treaty but those of Crookston and East Grand Forks do not have to shut down as a result of the county option law, but they are not allowed to sell or ship to "dry" territory. They can continue to operate, however, and ship their product to Red Lake Falls, which is only 32 miles northeast of Crookston. From there it can be reshipped back into "dry" territory. So Red Lake Falls can be used as a shipping depot for North Dakota, while the validity of the Webb-Kenyon law remains in question.

Moorehead and East Grand Forks have already been put out of business as distributing points. Breckenridge will be eliminated when Wilkins county goes dry, and the little town of Oslo, in Marshall county, will be out of business as a border liquor depot after June 14. This will leave Red Lake Falls the nearest "wet" town to North Dakota.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT MEETS

New Members of Cabinet Will Soon Be Seated.

London, June 4.—Both houses of parliament met for the first time since the formation of the new coalition ministry.

The new members of the cabinet, however, were unable to take their places on the ministerial benches in the house of commons owing to the law which made them ineligible to sit until they were re-elected by their various constituencies.

This situation, however, was speedily remedied, for the house of commons passed in all its stages a bill removing this disability for the period of the war.

COUNTIES TO HAVE SANATORIUM

Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties to Unite and Build One Near Cedar Lake and Station

REACHED BY TWO RAILWAYS

$26,000 Fund Raised—Dr. J. A. Thabes and Com. John A. Oberg Active Securing Same

Crow Wing and Aitkin counties will unite in the establishment and maintenance of a county sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis. Crow Wing county a year ago made a one mill tax levy and has now on hand for such purposes the sum of $26,000.

Aitkin county has considered the matter and at the July meeting of the county board will levy a one mill tax netting about $6,000. This sum of $32,000 will be doubled by the state's contribution of a like amount, and the fund of $64,000 will be used to build the sanatorium near Cedar Lake station and Cedar Lake. It is considered a very good point because of having Soo and Northern Pacific railway connections.

The tuberculosis sanatorium will be built by a commission including two from Aitkin and three from Crow Wing county, working under the supervision of the state board of health. Prominently identified with the movement in Crow Wing county are Dr. John A. Thabes of Brainerd, and County Commissioner John A. Oberg of Deerwood.

The "Aitkin Age" in discussing the advantages of uniting with Crow Wing county in building, said:

"With no other county can Crow Wing ally so advantageously, and the same is true of Aitkin with regard to Crow Wing. Crow Wing realized last year that a sanatorium had become a necessity, and without a word of protest, taxes were levied by the commissioners that produced a fund of $26,000 toward a sanatorium. This they are anxious to use at once."

The state of Minnesota pays half the expense of the site and building for a sanatorium, and stipulates that her share for any single county sanatorium shall not be more than $50,000 for a district sanatorium. The state also pays half the cost of maintenance. The expense that each county pays is proportioned according to the population. It is estimated by those who considered this matter for some time past that a sanatorium for Aitkin and Crow Wing counties would cost $25,000. The cost of maintenance would be $10 per week for each patient, and the state pays $5.00, which would leave a balance of $5.00 per week to be paid by the two counties.

In all sanatoriums it is the rule that those patients who are able to pay, do so, and the same would be the system here. But if a sanatorium is built, no limit will be set to the number of patients, and it will be for the benefit of all who need its care and protection, absolutely free to those who are unable to pay. And this agreement is not entirely humanitarian, but from the standpoint of public expense, as it is not the care of one patient for the time being that amounts to so much, but the controlling of the ever-increasing product of one neglected case and paying for the bills that keep coming in as the years go by as the result of the case neglected.

Public economy requires the care of the original case, for where that particular case is often not a public charge, those infected may become so.

Aitkin county has at least 100 cases of tuberculosis at the present time, and it is becoming very difficult in some instances to house those having the disease, to say nothing of giving them proper care and protecting other from infection. Although this is not an alarming condition as compared with communities in some other states, the increase in the disease has been rapid and will become alarming before long. The first settlers in any county are the rugged, out-door pioneering class, but as the population increases and cities and towns grow, more of the unfit class come in and with them come diseases. County sanatoria are now provided for by law, and sooner or later Aitkin county must make a definite arrangement for caring for her tubercular patients, other than the makeshift of sending them to city hospitals or getting them into private homes where often there are not the conditions are such that a return to health is impossible and it becomes only a matter of time until death relieves the sufferer, to say nothing of the fact that the product if such measure is continuously increasing, and one such case becomes the fountain head of many more. Last year two cases alone cost Aitkin county $1000 in direct expense, and what the indirect expense in product will be later, no one can foresee.

Incidental to the establishing of a hospital at Cedar Lake, Aitkin would be greatly benefited financially. The commerce and travel that would develop would be by way of Aitkin. Walker, since the building of the state sanatorium at that point, has become known throughout the state and beyond her confines, even though the sanatorium is not in the town itself, but is entirely separate.

At the meeting at the court house Monday, where were present Dr. J. A. Thabes of Brainerd and John Oberg of Deerwood, representing Crow Wing county, and Commissioners Kinney and Hanson of Aitkin county, it was the sentiment that the county should unite with Crow Wing in this project, as the situation in Aitkin village and all over the county is a grave one. At first there was some objection to making some point near Cedar Lake the site, but after the matter was talked over the general expression was that this would in no way affect Cedar Lake as a summer resort, and those who had at first objected were very much in favor of the location. One of the men present stated that were the sanatorium to be built by private subscription he would gladly give $500 to the project. There is a sentiment throughout the village and county that the sanatorium be built, and although the matter has come up before the county commissioners rather suddenly, owing to Crow Wing's position in the matter with regard to Wadena and Todd counties, the proposition is favored and it seems a time for Aitkin county to take a stand, and one that shall look to the long future of a growing county, wherein will be thousands of people in another decade, where are now but hundreds. Instead of by inaction mortgaging the future to disease and death, it were better to insure its protection against the ravages of the most insidious enemy of the present time.

This will be One of the Big Attractions at the Tom W. Allen Carnival Show Here.

One of the big features of the Tom W. Allen carnival which will exhibit in this city one week commencing Monday is a twentieth century attraction known as "Nomia."

This is a high class exhibition of the better sort. This production carries 25 performers and their own orchestra of eight skilled musicians. They present a performance that is considered one of the best of its kind traveling under canvas the world over. They have a stage as large as any theatre in the city, a whole carload of special scenery and electrical effects. The program is composed of twelve high class acts that require an hour and thirty minutes to perform.

There is a great open air organ in front of the show which is manipulated by an expert at that profession. The feature of the show itself is Shirley La Patte as Nomia dancing the latest dances. A wardrobe of 195 costumes is required to present this performance. It is truly a show for ladies and gentlemen.

GARDNER TO PITCH TWO GAMES

Ex-Philadelphia League Pitcher, Recently Released by St. Paul Association Team

TO STAR ON SLAB HERE

Braierd Fans Can Bank on Seeing one of the Fastest Games Ever Staged

Word was received by phone last night that "Happy" Harry Gardner, ex-Philadelphia league pitcher, recently released by St. Paul Association team, would journey to Brainerd next Saturday and Sunday and pitch both games for the Independents of St. Paul against Brainerd. In closing up negotiations with this team Manager Hansing insisted that the best talent in the Twin City be procured for these games, and Manager Hurlin of the visitors was so notified with the result that big money was offered the old leaguer which he accepted. Early next week Gardner will join a Coast city team which made a bid for his services shortly after his release by St. Paul.

Braierd fans can expect to see one of the fastest games ever staged of the local grounds next Saturday and Sunday and it is predicted that the "Spavs" will have to extend themselves to land on the big end of the money. The battery for Brainerd has not yet been chosen for either game though a request has been made that Fred Cook decorate the mound for one of the two games. Should the visitors shut out Brainerd the first game, Cook will probably be delegated to pitch Sunday.

The Independents have been playing some of the fastest teams in the state and have always given a good account of themselves. Austin, noted out a winner through bad breaks while Owatonna and St. Peter were both scheduled to play the St. Paulites but wet grounds resulted in a postponement.

Saturday's game will be called at promptly 3:30 as will Sunday's game and it is hoped the fans will respond to both games in numbers that will warrant the management continuing the schedule which calls for Saturday and Sunday games up to the first of August.

Next Saturday and Sunday Brainerd will play the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen's team of Bemidji and from what can be learned of their ability, another fast series will result. So well has Brainerd been advertised throughout the state that difficulty is being met with in arranging games, the visitors fearing that both games will be lost and likewise the big end of the gate receipts.

St. Paul-New Orleans River Traffic

St. Paul, Minn., June 4.—Steel barges operated by John H. Bernhardt of the Mississippi River Transportation Co., New Orleans, will be in operation between St. Paul and New Orleans on the Mississippi river in August, it was announced by A. J. Krank, vice-president of the association of commerce here today. Civic workers in St. Paul are anxious to promote river traffic between St. Paul and New Orleans.

TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

Volunteers Wanted to Accommodate the Senators and Their Ladies on Their Visit to Brainerd

Braierd is to entertain a distinguished party of visitors on June 19th, that being the occasion of the visit of the senatorial party and their ladies of probably 100. The committee having charge of the arrangements desire those who will be on hand with their automobiles to help take the party around the city and surrounding country on that date to notify Senator George H. Gardner, or Secretary Hansing of the Chamber of Commerce. An immediate response is requested.

A UNIQUE DISTINCTION

Red Lake Falls May Become Liquor Hub of all Northwestern Minnesota and Dakota

As a result of county option elections it now seems that Red Lake Falls will soon become the liquor "hub" of all Northwestern Minnesota and North Dakota, says the Bemidji Pioneer.

Every other county in the Red River valley is going dry as fast as elections are being held, but no petition have been started in Red Lake county. A good part of its rural population is Canadian-French, and the sentiment of the county is against saloon closing. So Red Lake Falls bids fair to keep saloons for some time to come.

The Bemidji brewery was closed by operation of the Indian treaty but those of Crookston and East Grand Forks do not have to shut down as a result of the county option law, but they are not allowed to sell or ship to "dry" territory. They can continue to operate, however, and ship their product to Red Lake Falls, which is only 32 miles northeast of Crookston. From there it can be shipped back into "dry" territory. So Red Lake Falls can be used as a shipping depot for North Dakota, while the validity of the Webb-Kenyon law remains in question.

Moorhead and East Grand Forks have already been put out of business as distributing points. Breckenridge will be eliminated when Wilkins county goes dry, and the little town of Oslo, in Marshall county, will be out of business as a border liquor depot after June 14. This will leave Red Lake Falls the nearest "wet" town to North Dakota.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT MEETS

New Members of Cabinet Will Soon Be Seated.

London, June 4.—Both houses of parliament met for the first time since the formation of the new coalition ministry.

The new members of the cabinet, however, were unable to take their places on the ministerial benches in the house of commons owing to the law which made them ineligible to sit until they were re-elected by their various constituencies.

This situation, however, was speedily remedied, for the house of commons passed in all its stages a bill removing this disability for the period of the war.

COUNTIES TO HAVE SANATORIUM

Crow Wing and Aitkin Counties to Unite and Build One Near Cedar Lake and Station

REACHED BY TWO RAILWAYS

$26,000 Fund Raised—Dr. J. A. Thabes and Com. John A. Oberg Active Securing Same

Crow Wing and Aitkin counties will unite in the establishment and maintenance of a county sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis. Crow Wing county a year ago made a one mill tax levy and has now on hand for such purposes the sum of $7,000.

Aitkin county has considered the matter and at the July meeting of the county board will levy a one mill tax netting about $6,000. This sum of $13,000 will be doubled by the state's contribution of a like amount, and the fund of $26,000 will be used to build the sanatorium near Cedar Lake station and Cedar lake. It is considered a very good point because of having Soo and Northern Pacific railway connections.

The tuberculosis sanatorium will be built by a commission including two from Aitkin and three from Crow Wing county, working under the supervision of the state board of health. Prominently identified with the movement in Crow Wing county are Dr. John A. Thabes of Brainerd, and County Commissioner John A. Oberg of Deerwood.

The "Aitkin Age" in discussing the advantages of uniting with Crow Wing county in building, said:

"With no other county can Crow Wing ally so advantageously, and the same is true of Aitkin with regard to Crow Wing. Crow Wing realized last year that a sanatorium had become a necessity, and without a word of protest, taxes were levied by the commissioners that produced a fund of $7,000 toward a sanatorium. This they are anxious to use at once."

The State of Minnesota pays half the expense of the site and building for a sanatorium, and stipulates that her share for any single county sanatorium shall not be more than $50,000 for a district sanatorium. The state also pays half the cost of maintenance. The expense that each county pays is proportioned according to the population. It is estimated by those who considered this matter for some time past that a sanatorium for Aitkin and Crow Wing counties would cost $25,000. The cost of maintenance would be $10 per week, for each patient, and the state pays $5.00, which would leave a balance of $5.00 per week to be paid by the two counties.

In all sanatoriums it is the rule that those patients who are able to pay, do so, and the same would be the system here. But if a sanatorium is built, no limit will be set to the number of patients, and it will be for the benefit of all who need the care and protection, absolutely free to those who are unable to pay. And this agreement is not entirely humanitarian, but from the standpoint of public expense, as it is not the care of one patient for the time being that amounts to so much, but the controlling of the ever increasing product of one neglected case and paying for the bills that keep coming in as the years go by as the result of the case neglected. Public economy requires the care of the original case, for where that particular case is often not a public charge, those infected may become so.

Aitkin county has at least 100 cases of tuberculosis at the present time, and it is becoming very difficult in some instances to house those having the disease, to say nothing of giving them proper care and protecting other from infection. Although this is not an alarming condition as compared with communities in some other states, the increase in the disease has been rapid and will become alarming before long. The first settlers in any county are the rugged, out-door pioneering class, but as the population increases and cities and towns grow, more of the under class come in and with them come disease. County sanatoria are now provided for by law, and sooner or later Aitkin county must make a definite arrangement for caring for her tuberculosis patients, other than the makeshift of sending them to city hospitals or getting them into private homes where often than not the conditions are such that a return to health is impossible and it becomes only a matter of time until death relieves the sufferer, to say nothing of the fact that the product of such measure is continually increasing, and one such case becomes the fountain head of many more. Last year two cases alone cost Aitkin county $1,000 in direct expense, and what the indirect expense in product will be later, no one can foresee.

Incidental to the establishing of a hospital at Cedar lake, Aitkin would be greatly benefited financially. The commerce and travel that would develop would be by way of Aitkin. Walker, since the building of the state sanatorium at that point, has become known throughout the state and beyond her confines, even though the sanatorium is not in the town itself, but is entirely separate.

At the meeting of the court house Monday, where were present Dr. J. A. Thabes of Brainerd and John Oberg of Deerwood, representing Crow Wing county, and Commissioners Kinney and Hanson of Aitkin county, it was the sentiment that the county should unite with Crow Wing in this project, as the situation in Aitkin village and all over the county is a grave one. The BLACK BOX

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

"Craig Disappeared About Here, Sir."

"Craig came along through here," he explained. "The groom and the Scotland Yard man who had been sitting by his side, followed him. They searched for an hour, but found no trace of him at all. Then they returned to the house to make a report and get help. I will now show you how Craig first eluded them."

He led the way along a tangled path, doubled back, plunged into a little spinney and came suddenly to a small shed.

"This is an ancient gamekeeper's shelter," he explained; "built a long time ago and almost forgotten now. What Craig did, without doubt, was to hide in this. The Scotland Yard man who took the affair in hand found distinct traces here of recent occupation. That is how he made his first escape."

Quest nodded. "Sure!" he murmured. "Well, now, what about your more extended search?"

"I am coming to that," Lord Ashleigh replied. "As Edgar will remember, no doubt, I have always kept a few bloodhounds in my kennels, and as soon as we could get together one or two of the keepers and a few of the local constabulary, we started off again from here. The dogs brought us without a check to this shed, and started off again this way."

They walked another half mile across a reedy swamp. Every now and then they had to jump across a small dyke, and once they had to make a detour to avoid an osier bed. They came at last to the river.

"Now, I can show you exactly how that fellow put us off the scent here," their guide proceeded. "He seems to have picked up something, Edgar, in those South American trips of yours, for a clever thing I never saw. You see all these bulrushes everywhere—clouds of them all along the river?"

"We call them tules," Quest muttered. "Well?"

"When Craig arrived here," Lord Ashleigh continued, "he must have heard the baying of the dogs in the distance and he knew that the game was up unless he could put them off the scent. He cut a quantity of these bulrushes from a place a little farther behind those trees, then stepped boldly into the middle of the water, waded down to that spot where, as you see, the trees hang over, stood stock still and leaned them all around him. It was dusk when the chase reached the river bank, and I have no doubt the bulrushes presented quite a natural appearance. At any rate, although the dogs came without a check to the edge of the river, where he stepped off, they never picked the scent up again either on this side or the other. We tried them for four or five hours before we took them home. The next morning, while the place was being thoroughly searched, we came upon the spot where these bulrushes had been cut down, and we found them caught in the low boughs of a tree, drifting down the river."

Quest had lit a fresh cigar and was smoking vigorously.

"What astonishes me more than anything," he pronounced, as he stood looking over the desolate expanse of country, "is that when one comes face to face with the fellow he presents all the appearance of a nervous and broken-down coward. Then all of a sudden there spring up evidences of the most amazing, the most diabolical resource. . . . Who's this, Lord Ashleigh?"

The latter turned his head. An elderly man in a brown velvet suit, with gaiters and thick boots, raised his hat respectfully.

"This is my head keeper, Middleton," his master explained. "He was with us on the chase."

The professor shook hands heartily with the newcomer.

"Not a day older, Middleton!" he exclaimed. "So you are the man who has given us all this trouble, eh? This gentleman and I have come over from New York on purpose to lay hands on Craig."

"I am very sorry, sir," the man replied. "I wouldn't have fired my gun if I had known what the consequences were going to be, but them poaching devils that come round here rabbling fairly send me furious, and that's a fact. It ain't that one grudge them a few rabbits, but my tame pheasants all run out here from the home wood, and I've seen feathers at the side of the road there that no fox nor stoat had nothing to do with. All the same, sir, I'm very sorry," he added, "to have been the cause of any inconvenience."

"It is rather worse than inconvenience, Middleton," the professor said, gravely. "The man who has escaped is one of the worst criminals of these days."

"He won't get far, sir," the gamekeeper remarked, with a little smile. "It's a wild bit of country, this, and I admit that men might search it for weeks without finding anything, but those gentlemen from Scotland Yard, sir, if you'll excuse my making the remark, and hoping that this gentleman," he added, looking at Quest, "is in no way connected with them—well, they don't know everything, and that's a fact."

WAR SPIRIT RULES FATE OF NATIONS

Conflicts Are Irresistible When Time Comes to Fight.

ANTI-BRITISH FEELING HERE

Americans, Whose Commerce and Business Have Suffered, Insist on Upholding Our Neutral Rights—South Especially Bitter, as Trade in That Section Has Been Greatest Sufferer.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 4.—[Special.]—Who can keep the peace when the war spirit is aroused? Since the close of the civil war the war spirit has blazed in this country several times, and once war came in spite of the efforts of President McKinley, backed by the powerful Mark Hanna, the business interests of the country and two-thirds of the Republican party then in power in both branches of congress. Before that time a war spirit had been kindled against England on several occasions, and even without means of fighting our people were ready to fight.

The government of Italy did not want war, but the war spirit was irresistible in that country. And what will happen in this country if the war spirit is fanned to a flame? Not all the peace arguments ever made can stop it. And our people do not as a people want war. They do not want the waste and carnage, but that does not prevent war.

Feeling Against Great Britain.

Notwithstanding the very great sentiment that has been manifested against Germany in this country the British ambassador has not been the alert diplomat he should be if he has failed to inform his government that there is a growing resentment against Great Britain and that it has been brought to the administration daily.

All Americans whose commerce has been interrupted and held up by British ships are much aroused. From the south the protests are many and of a character which means much. The south feels that it has had to bear the brunt of disaster brought upon this country by the war in Europe, but the people do not intend to submit tamely to unnecessary burdens.

South Has Economized.

"Our people have economized," said Senator Hoke Smith, speaking of the conditions. "The war in Europe caused a loss of $400,000,000. Our people bent under the burden, but they stopped buying luxuries and even necessities. The merchants did not sell anything, and they did not buy goods; the losses were felt in the north as well as in the south. Our people went down to bedrock, lived as best they could and hoped for better times. We have recognized the exigencies of war, but we do not propose that any beligerent shall add to the burdens we bear in an unnecessary manner. We have kept neutral ourselves and we are going to demand that our neutral rights shall be respected."

Can We Resist Colombia?

The most impassioned speech for the Monroe doctrine made in the pan-American conference was by a delegate from Colombia. It was full of vim and pan-American ardor. It elicited from all present "three rousing cheers," as Consul Egbert would say. And yet Colombia is one of the countries of the south that has had a grievance against the United States. But there is a treaty pending in which the United States agrees to spread a balm over the wounds to the tune of $25,000,000. Can the United States resist that appeal for the fullest exercise of the Monroe doctrine and show its hearty acquiescence by giving up that $25,000,000?

Roosevelt a Factor.

"Colonel Roosevelt will be a factor in politics as long as he lives," remarked former Senator Bristow of Kansas, "but I do not believe that he has any aspirations for the presidency." But, like a great many other admirers of the former president, Bristow has no authority to speak for him. Many people knowing Roosevelt pretty thoroughly would not be surprised to see him again in the field. The result of the Barnes suit has given him a great deal of encouragement, according to information his close friends have received.

Great Foreign Immigration.

Immigration officials have been informed by observers that when the war is over in Europe there will be a great flood of immigration to this country the like of which has never before been known. The increase of taxation, the lack of employment and, above all, the desire of many foreigners to get away from countries where such a war is possible will induce millions to seek homes in other lands.

Selecting Their Successors.

It is not pleasant for senators now holding seats and whose terms expire in a year to have the newspapers calmly select their successors. But it is being done every day. One of the latest senators to be thrust aside by this kind of selection is Myers of Montana. But it is said that he will not seek reelection. Myers was a dark horse choice after the end of a bitter fight in the legislature. Already there is a strong field of candidates seeking the place, and as the nomination is made by primaries, then the election by the people, no one can guess who will win.

SHOULD ANY BREAK OCCUR

Protection for Americans in Germany Is Assured.

Amsterdam, June 4.—American Ambassador Gerard already has taken steps to safeguard Americans in Berlin in case of any unforeseen events.

The American ambassador asked the German foreign office for assurances that the embassy staff and their families, Red Cross workers, Polish relief commissioners and American newspaper correspondents be permitted to leave on a special embassy train in event of any breach between the two countries.

Secretary von Jagow gave full assurance of every protection.

Dust In Your Eyes.

The expression "to throw dust in the eyes" originated in the early days of Greece, for Epaminondas, wishing to surprise the Lacedaemonians, had 1,000 cavalry advance in front, causing a great dust, which the wind blew into the faces of the enemy, blinding them to the discovery of a flank movement he was executing in order to take the coveted heights in their rear.

DOUBLE SERVICE

AUTOMOBILE TIRES

Guaranteed 7000 Miles Service

ABSOLUTELY PUNCTUREPROOF

Double Service Tires are double the thickness of the best standard make tires.

This 100 per cent greater wearing surface naturally gives that much more mileage and service. The average of 12 miles of tough fabric and one inch surface thread rubber makes these tires absolutely punctureproof.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire—the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service style tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.

Our output is limited to a certain amount, but for a short time we offer the following reduced special prices as an Introductory Offer:

BLACK BOX

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Novelized from the Photo Play of the Same Name. Produced by the Universal Film Manufacturing Company.

"Craig disappeared about here, sir,"

he explained. "The groom and the Scotland Yard man who had been sitting by his side, followed him. They searched for an hour, but found no trace of him at all. Then they returned to the house to make a report and get help. I will now show you how Craig first eluded them."

He led the way along a tangled path, doubled back, plunged into a little spinney and came suddenly to a small shed.

"This is an ancient gamekeeper's shelter," he explained; "built a long time ago and almost forgotten now. What Craig did, without doubt, was to hide in this. The Scotland Yard man who took the affair in hand found distinct traces here of recent occupation. That is how he made his first escape."

Quest nodded.

"Sure!" he murmured. "Well, now, what about your more extended search?"

"I am coming to that," Lord Ashleigh replied. "As Edgar will remember, no doubt, I have always kept a few bloodhounds in my kennels, and as soon as we could get together one or two of the keepers and a few of the local constabulary, we started off again from here. The dogs brought us without a check to this shed, and started off again this way."

They walked another half mile across a reedy swamp. Every now and then they had to jump across a small dyke, and once they had to make a detour to avoid an osier bed. They came at last to the river.

"Now, I can show you exactly how that fellow put us off the scent here," their guide proceeded. "He seems to have picked up something, Edgar, in those South American trips of yours, for a clever thing I never saw. You see all these bulrushes everywhere—clouds of them all along the river?"

"We call them tules," Quest muttered. "Well?"

"When Craig arrived here," Lord Ashleigh continued, "he must have heard the baying of the dogs in the distance and he knew that the game was up unless he could put them off the scent. He cut a quantity of these bulrushes from a place a little farther behind those trees, then stepped boldly into the middle of the water, waded down to that spot where, as you see, the trees hang over, stood stock still and leaned them all around him. It was dusk when the chase reached the river bank, and I have no doubt the bulrushes presented quite a natural appearance. At any rate, although the dogs came without a check to the edge of the river, where he stepped off, they never picked the scent up again either on this side or the other. We tried them for four or five hours before we took them home. The next morning, while the place was being thoroughly searched, we came upon the spot where these bulrushes had been cut down, and we found them caught in the low boughs of a tree, drifting down the river."

Quest had lit a fresh cigar and was smoking vigorously.

"What astonishes me more than anything," he pronounced, as he stood looking over the desolate expanse of country, "is that when one comes face to face with the fellow he presents all the appearance of a nerveless and broken-down coward. Then all of a sudden there spring up these evidences of the most amazing, the

WAR SPIRIT RULES FATE OF NATIONS

Conflicts Are Irresistible When Time Comes to Fight.

ANTI-BRITISH FEELING HERE

Americans, Whose Commerce and Business Have Suffered, Insist on Upholding Our Neutral Rights—South Especially Bitter, as Trade In That Section Has Been Greatest Sufferer.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 4.—[Special.]—Who can keep the peace when the war spirit is aroused? Since the close of the civil war the war spirit has blazed in this country several times, and once war came in spite of the efforts of President McKinley, backed by the powerful Mark Hanna, the business interests of the country and two-thirds of the Republican party then in power in both branches of congress. Before that time a war spirit had been kindled against England on several occasions, and even without means of fighting our people were ready to fight.

The government of Italy did not want war, but the war spirit was irresistible in that country. And what will happen in this country if the war spirit is fanned to a flame? Not all the peace arguments ever made can stop it. And our people do not as a people want war. They do not want the waste and carnage, but that does not prevent war.

These tires excel all others for use in the country over rough and rugged roads as well as on hard pavements. They are as easy riding and resilient as any other pneumatic tire, the air space and pressure being the same.

They are the most economical and "care free" tires made and are used where tires must be depended on and tire troubles cannot be tolerated. Many Double Service style tires are in use in the United States government and European War service.

Our output is limited to a certain amount, but for a short time we offer the following reduced special prices as an Introductory Offer:

Creamettes

Builds Sturdy Bodies

SOME mothers feed their children Creamettes three times a day. This new more tender macaroni product is the ideal substitute for meat.

The ordinary macaroni, as you know, takes from 30 to 35 minutes to cook. Creamettes cooks to a delicious tenderness in from 5 to 8 minutes.

Creamettes is made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor all its own.

Try it with cheese, with ham, with tomatoes, with bacon, or with nuts.
